Message from our pastor January 28, 2024

Happy Catholic school Sunday! I love our Incarnation academy. It has good families who love their kids who sacrifice for their future and in the process, we bring the relationship of Jesus, the Christ, Son of God and Son of Mary, the Messiah, and our Savior.

Everything is worth it to bring our kids - Jesus. This week we celebrate that reality in Catholic Schools week. Every parent of a child in our religious Education program should come to Incarnation today or call or email the school on Monday and take a tour. Every child in our Religious Education program has the blessing of doing registration for September into the academy for $100 dollars.

Every parent who baptized their child promised to raise them in the faith. That promised is lived in either having your child attend Religious Education or attending Catholic school. Religious Education is important, and I thank God for the witness of our volunteer catechists, and parishioners who help bring Jesus to our kids in Religious Education every week.

But Religious Education is only for a bit over an hour of teaching per week. Catholic school is 8 hours a day, 5 days a week. It is like comparing ice cream to steak. Both are food and both are good but both are very different. So, I challenge every parent to ask a question, trust in the Holy Spirit, and enter into the process.

Please, stop by the school, and also let me know you are interested so we can start helping create your finance package early and answer any questions by filling the information below and returning it today to the school, to your religious education teacher, or in the collection. God bless Fr Gannon.

Mensaje de nuestro párroco 28 de enero de 2024

¡Feliz domingo de escuela católica! Me encanta nuestra academia de la Encarnación. Tiene buenas familias que aman a sus hijos, que se sacrifican por su futuro y en el proceso traemos la relación de Jesús, El Cristo, Hijo de Dios e Hijo de María, el Mesías, y nuestro Salvador.

Todo vale la pena para atraer a nuestros hijos a Jesús. Esta semana celebramos esa realidad en la semana de las Escuelas Católicas. Cada padre de un niño en nuestro programa de Educación Religiosa debe venir a la Encarnación hoy, o llamar o enviar un correo electrónico a la escuela el lunes y tomar un tour. Cada niño en nuestro programa de Educación Religiosa tiene la bendición de hacer la inscripción para ingresar a la academia por 100 dólares.

Cada padre que bautizó a su hijo prometió criarlo en la fe. Esa promesa es vivida ya sea teniendo a su hijo asistiendo al programa de Educación Religiosa o asistiendo a la escuela católica. La Educación Religiosa es importante y doy gracias a Dios por el testimonio de nuestros catequistas voluntarios, y feligreses que ayudan a llevar a Jesús a nuestros hijos en la Educación Religiosa cada semana.

Pero, el programa de Ed Religiosa solamente tiene a los niños por un poco más de una hora de enseñanza por semana. Las clases en la escuela católica son de 8 horas al día 5 días a la semana. Es como comparar un helado con un filete. Ambos son alimentos y ambos son buenos, pero ambos son muy diferentes. Así que desafío a cada padre a hacer preguntas, a confiar en el Espíritu Santo, y a entrar en el proceso.

Por favor, pase por la escuela, y también hágame saber que usted está interesado para que podamos empezar a ayudar a crear su paquete de financiación temprana y responder a cualquier pregunta rellenando la información de abajo y devolverlo hoy a la escuela, al maestro de su hijo en programa de Educación Católica o poniéndolo en la colecta. ¡Dios los bendiga! Padre Gannon.

HISTORY OF FEAST OF CANDELARIA
The Feast of Candelaria has a long history, dating back to the 16th Century. According to a local legend, in 1576, some Inca fishermen were caught in a terrible storm on Lake Titicaca. As they prayed for help, the Virgin Mary appeared and led them to safety. In gratitude, they built a shrine containing a statue of the Virgin, which was sculpted by the Inca craftsman Tito Yupanqui the same year.

Another account of the statue's origins focuses on the sculptor. It is said that the Virgin of Copacabana, who had appeared to the sailors, appeared in a dream to Tito Yupanqui, who was not a sculptor. But he was so affected by the vision that he set out to learn to sculpt in Potosí. With his acquired skill, he hand-carved the Virgin from the wood of a maguey cactus, carried it by foot for 400 miles, from Potosí to Copacabana, and placed it in an adobe chapel.

During festivals, the courtyard is filled with colorful flowers, and for the feast, pilgrims and dancers come to Copacabana from Peru and across Bolivia. There are traditional Aymar dances, music, drinking, and feasting. On the third day of the feast, 100 bulls are gathered in a stone corral along the Yampupata road, and some of the braver revelers jump into the arena and try to avoid being attacked.

Believed to work miracles, the statue of the Virgin of Candelaria is the most important pilgrimage destination in Bolivia. The holiday has gained global traction in the last century, with much of the effort exerted by Saint John Paul II to integrate the celebration with renewed religious vows.
